

THE GARFIELD MONUMENT.

A Competition Open to All Artists
The $150,000 Monument to be Erected in the Cemetery at Cleveland.

The Trustees of the Garfield National Monument Association invite an international competition, open to all artists, for a design for a monument in honor of James A. Garfield, late President of the United States. The following conditions will control the competition: First, all designs to be represented by models or drawings of design, not to exceed one-twentieth of the proposed size, with estimates of cost, the Trustees to reserve the right to require any drawings they may judge desirable to be represented in model before a final decision; second, each design to be accompanied by a sealed letter, inclosing the name and address of the artist, and upon an envelope shall mark or motto similar to a mark or motto upon the model or design, to identify the artist and his work; third, designs to be presented by 1st day of May, 1884, in the city of Cleveland, free of cost to the Trustees, but at the artist's risk, to be removed by the artist within two months after the decision is announced, or otherwise to become the property of the Trustees; fourth, the design will be publicly exhibited for at least two weeks prior to the decision; fifth, the Trustees are at liberty to reject any or all designs presented; sixth, for the design possessing the highest merit in the judgment of the Trustees, $1,000 will be paid; for the second, $750; for the third, $500; seventh, the designs for which premiums are awarded to become the property of the Trustees; eighth, the monument to be erected in Lake View Cemetery, at Cleveland, Ohio, on a commanding eminence some 130 feet above and about half a mile from the entrance to the cemetery; ninth, the monument to provide a receptacle for the remains of the deceased President and a suitable vault for his family; tenth, the monument not to exceed in cost when completed $150,000; eleventh, the monument to be of granite of approved quality and color, emblem and statuary of bronze. (Signed):

Charles Foster, President; R. B. Hayes, Vice President; J. H. Wade, H. B. Payne and Joseph Perkins, Executive Committee; J. H. Rhodes, Secretary.

One Effect of Woman's Ballot.

Hon. M. E. Post, Delegate to Congress from Wyoming, was in Chicago Wednesday on his way West. He says Mormonism cuts no figure as yet in his Territory, there being a very small number confined to the southwestern corner of Wyoming. Speaking of female suffrage in the Territory, he says, women did not act under political bias as men did, but generally voted for those they thought best qualified. Since the women have been given the ballot it has become almost impossible for saloon keepers to be elected to office in the Territory, which was a fair illustration of their method of using the ballot.

Victory for the Women

A private dispatch received from Olympia, W. T., says. The woman suffrage bill passed the House this evening by a vote of 14 to 7. There was great excitement at the time the vote was taken, and much applause over the result.

The Director of the Mint authorizes the purchase of 410,000 ounces of fine silver for use at the Philadelphia, New Orleans and San Francisco Mints.—Exchange.

Here is a splendid chance for Senator Jones to explain why there was no bullion bought for the Carson Mint. Probably it is allowed to lay idle half its time to show how energetically Mr. Jones works to keep it from being abolished. A little light is needed on this business.—Austin Keville.

What's the matter with you? The Carson Mint has between 800,000 and 900,000 ounces of bullion on hand.

The secret of the defeat of the Republican party in Ohio lies in the fact that in the country the Democrats sought out temperance Republicans and Prohibitionists and traded a vote for Hoadley for one for prohibition. This fact is becoming more apparent every day.

Irrigation Facilities.

(S. F. Bulletin.)

It has been asserted by authorities at Washington, who are conversant with our public lands, that no more than 7 1/2 per cent of all the land lying west of the one hundredth degree west longitude is arable without irrigation. This line would run northerly through the western part of Texas, Indian Territory and Kansas, and through about the center of Nebraska and Dakota, and would include in the western division at least two-fifths of all the Territory of the Union. Whether this estimate is literally correct or not, it is certain that there are many millions of acres of dry, dreary, desolate lands, which appear to the eye of the traveler to be utterly worthless and unproductive, but which with irrigation can be made valuable and profitable for all ordinary agricultural purposes. The utilization of a large proportion of these lands seems to depend entirely upon the chances of increased facilities for irrigation. How far the difficulty of scarcity of water may be overcome by industry, enterprise and capital, is a problem which time alone can solve.

In California, Colorado and Utah extensive progress has been made in irrigation, with satisfactory results in each locality. In Colorado large amounts of both English and American capital has been invested in irrigation canals, and there, as elsewhere, dry and arid lands have been proven to be very productive. The success which has attended the boring of artesian wells, both by the Government and by private citizens of that State, has also greatly encouraged those who hope for a supply of water from that source. An abundant supply is often found at a depth of 300 to 400 feet, and as the boring of wells of that depth costs but about one dollar per foot, it is evident that the average farmer can well afford the expense whenever there is reasonable hope of successful results. The artesian source of supply will, of course, be resorted to to a greater extent as the country is gradually occupied in the vicinity of railroads.

But the chief source of irrigation must be found in a supply of water from the mountains. This arid section of country is traversed by both the Rocky Mountains and the Sierras. Each of these ranges accumulates snow in the winter, which never entirely disappears in the summer. Each affords water enough in the spring to frequently deluge the adjacent valleys, and to cause a great destruction to property. The extent to which the water supply can be utilized for irrigation is a problem which will no doubt receive much greater attention in the future than it has in the past. Professor Silliman, a few years ago, in his lecture in the Eastern cities on hydraulic mining, said he had seen ditches in California constructed by private capital for mining purposes, which carried more water and conveyed it further than the Croton pipe did, which supplied the entire city of New York, with a population of more than a million inhabitants. During the great floods of 1862 in this State a scientist of note of San Francisco urged the theory that it was practical to impound the water of the mountains to the extent of greatly diminishing the destructiveness of the floods which had so frequently occurred. It seems, to the common observer, improbable that such a result could ever be attained by such means. But that vast bodies of water could be impounded for purposes of irrigation is a proposition which will not be denied. Extensive reservoirs have been constructed for mining purposes. Still greater works of that character will doubtless be developed in the future in the interest of agriculture. The eastern slope of the Sierras and both slopes of the Rocky Mountains afford strong inducements for enterprises of this character for the reason that the lands adjacent to them are at present comparatively valueless.

A MORMON GIRL'S WISH.—A Nevada paper is responsible for the following: A girl, writing from a Mormon settlement in Nevada, says, "Brother Wadsworth is preparing for cold weather. He brought up from Southern Utah another of his wives, and now has both women within the village. A woman to hug up before and another to hug up behind, is a very comfortable thing in winter. I wish I was a man."—Salt Lake Chronicle.

N. Soderberg, who was counsel for the plaintiff in the divorce suit of Johnson vs. Johnson, claims that since the termination of the suit the victorious defendant Frank Johnson, is rendering his (Soderberg's) life a burden to him, especially during the nocturnal hours. Johnson is accused of firing pistols and throwing stones through the windows of the counselor's house, thus placing the occupant's peace of mind and life in jeopardy. The warlike traitor is evidently thirsting for more unenviable Court notoriety.

The President Declines to Act

WASHINGTON, October 19.

C. P. Huntington called upon the President last night in relation to the appointment of a commission to examine and report on the Company's Southern Pacific Road from Fort Wayne to El Paso, and the authentic report is, that Huntington's mission was not successful, the President hesitating to assume the responsibility of appointing a commissioner which would in effect amount to an executive decision, that the Southern Pacific is a land grant road. The result of this will be to lay the whole case before Congress, which it is understood, the President has decided to do, without special recommendation.

Land Frauds.

WASHINGTON, October 19.

Commissioner McFarland of the General Land Office, is conducting a vigorous crusade inaugurated against what are known as land cruisers in the West. Upon the reports of special agents, thirteen entries of public lands in Washington Territory were yesterday held for cancellation. The Commissioner says all parties in these cases appear to have combined in the commission of frauds, the combination even extending to nothing who witnessed the papers of all entries after the confirmations were transferred to one individual.

Villard Opposed

A Chicago special says: Arrangements will probably be made to continue Villard as President of the Northern Pacific for another year, although strong objections are made to him by Drexler, Morgan & Co., bankers, who made it at first, a condition that if the syndicate took up the 20,000,000 second mortgage bonds, Villard should resign and A. J. Cossart, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, be appointed.

Couldn't Afford It.

Made Honest by Business Principles a Druggist Tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing his elbows on his plated showcase and looking his customer fairly in the eye. "You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means. 'That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess.) Don't you keep plaster?' 'Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to guilt the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one and now sell

Benson's Capsine Porous Plasters principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others. 'Haven't you Alcock's?' 'Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capsine—which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I never have heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if you back used them and a cheaper plaster, but—' 'Don't talk to me about the money,' broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. 'What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—oh, Lord!—this pain and lameness?' Let me have one of Benson's Capsine. 'That's the real article, is it? With the word CAPSINE out in the body of the plaster. 'You'll be around in a week, straight and strong,' added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN.

What is Being Said and Done in a Small Way.

Geo. Troy is in from Hawthorne.
Nasby has returned from the Bay.
C. Derby has gone to San Francisco.
The town is filling up with strangers.
Hon. F. Lemmon and wife are in town.

Allen Evans, of Long Valley, is in town.

Prof. Foster is quite sick with bilious fever.

Geo. Frantzke is up from the Bay on a short visit.

Ad. Wilson, of Long Valley, was on the streets yesterday.

A daughter of John Hymers, at Pyramid, is reported very sick.

Tom Kelly is again in town. Yreka was his last stamping ground.

A rich autonomy mine has been discovered in the mountains near Washoe City.

Wintermantel will move into his new quarters, in the Wintermantel Hotel, next week.

It is a fact worthy of mention that every dollar subscribed for the races has been paid.

The Pyramid Lake Mining Company has levied an assessment of ten cents a share.

George Frantzke arrived yesterday morning from San Francisco. He has returned to stay.

For the first time in the history of San Francisco there is not one single faro game open in that city.

Frank Dickinson is here actively at work with others in perfecting arrangements for the races next week.

Tom Hymers, W. R. Chamberlain, Pierce Evans and another gentleman were out yesterday with a four-in-hand.

"Paddy" Ryan will arrive in Ogden on the 23d, instant. The Pilot says he will also take in Reno, Truckee and Nevada City.

The Central Pacific Railroad has begun suit against the Reno Savings Bank for $6,197, and Washoe county one for $2,800, and interest for three years.

Geo. W. Cunningham, who has been out in Humboldt county for the past three months selling patent iron fence posts, returned yesterday.

Ed. Burlington and John Sunderland intend to open a boot and shoe store at Carson. They will give Carson the best she ever had in that line.

R. E. Ross drove in 75 head of horses and turned them out on the Lake ranch to winter. He has still a large band on his range which will be driven in soon and shipped to Los Angeles.

Eugene Schutz, agent for the Spanish Students, is here making arrangements for the appearance of the Company at the Nevada Theater, Monday evening, November 5th. He goes to Carson and Virginia from Reno.

Lemery & Fontaine, the well known caterers to the public appetite, are now daily receiving oysters, luscious and tempting, direct from Baltimore. The season has just commenced, and they are most inviting.

John Bowman has as nice a stock of groceries and provisions as any house in the town, and he sells as low as the lowest. He also keeps everything good in the fruit and vegetable line. All goods are delivered free of charge.

A young man having asked a girl if he might go home with her from singing-class and been refused, said: "You're as full of airs as a muskox-box." "Perhaps so," she retorted; "but if I am, I don't go with a crank."

The "cooler," situated on the alley back of the JOURNAL office, was enlivened yesterday afternoon by the stentorian voice of a drunken squaw whom the Constable had deposited therein to sober up.

Twenty Years in Congress.

This great historical work of national legislation and current events during the period of twenty years, from Lincoln to Garfield's administrations, is now in press, and will soon be ready for distribution. Finley Cook is now canvassing Reno for subscribers, with the intention of visiting all sections of the county, as fast as he can get around. The book will contain portraits of all the leading statesmen of both parties, and as a literary work, will be one of the best ever offered to the public. The prices range, according to binding, from $4 50 to $7 00 per volume, to be complete in two royal octavo volumes of about 600 pages each, printed from new electrotype plates on superfine paper, as shown by the sample copy in possession of Mr. Cook, which is far ahead of any of the books usually sold by subscription, and which can only be procured by subscription.

Difficult to Exhaust.

The Water Company have been trying for the past three weeks to drain the big reservoir so as to construct the new one from which the town is to be supplied hereafter. No water has been turned in the reservoir for three weeks and a constant stream has been flowing from it all this time, and still quite a lake remains. This shows that, under ordinary circumstances the reservoir will hold water enough to supply the town for three months.

Dead in the Sagebrush.

News has just come from Madeline plains of the finding of the body of a man by the name of H. C. Shaw, formerly of Chico. An Italian found the body in the sagebrush, with the head almost severed from the trunk. He leaves a family in Oregon. By the appearance of the body the murder must have occurred at least two weeks ago.

An Iron Bridge.

The Silver State announces the fact that six cars loaded with material for a new bridge across the Truckee river at Verdi, where the old wooden bridge was burned last Summer, passed that place on Thursday, from Philadelphia, where the material was manufactured. This, of course, has reference to the railroad bridge.

A Handsome Addition.

Miss Sadie Sykes has made a very neat addition to Reno's business facilities, by fitting up two nice rooms in the theater building, as a millinery and dress making establishment. She has capable assistance, and is herself a lady of taste and training. No one need go further for first-class work.

Special Meeting.

Reno Chapter, No. 7, R. A. M., Saturday evening Oct. 20th 7 o'clock sharp. Work in the 6th degree. Companions and sojourning Companions invited to attend.

By order of the H. P.
W. L. BECHTOLD, Secty.

Change of Foreman at the Jacket.

John Cosgrove, foreman at the Yellow Jacket mine, has been superseded by David Monroe Tyrrell, formerly foreman at the Overman and Caledonia mines.

Overcoats.

Messrs. Abrahams are constantly receiving new goods from below and the East. Yesterday they were unpacking a lot of overcoats, and any one wishing a new coat will find it to his advantage to call on the White House.

One of the most enjoyable events to occur next week will be the grand ball at Kimball's Hall, on Wednesday evening, October 24th, to be given under the auspices of the managers of the races. The best of music has been engaged and every preparation made to insure a pleasant time to all who attend. The invitation is general.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-lyr

PARIS FASHIONS.

What We are to Expect this Winter
—The New Color—Expensive Materials.

The Herald's London special says: The ways of fashion are inscrutable. Paris, usually famous for its good taste, threatens this Winter to revive some of the most eccentric fashions of other days. The ladies may expect a resuscitation of the stuff broadened and quilted skirts which delighted the Court of Queen Anne, while the newest color invented borrows a sad tint of London smoke. It is described by rhapsodists as warm, with a deep tone of green, such as crowns the hill, on rainy mornings. Worth has just turned out a marvelous dinner dress of this unbecoming shade. Mauve, violet and geranium are likely to be nearly as fashionable, especially the peculiarly deep violet known as evigee. Both in Paris and in London most expensive materials will be worn. For bonnets and mantles, Chevalle flowers, simulating nature, and velvet leaves are much in favor. Rich brocade mantles, embroidered with shaded silks, in rather stiff mathematical designs, are the rage in London, which has discarded the frivolous fashions so popular this Summer. The French, after long denouncing ulsters as hideous, have graciously adopted them and are doing their best to improve them by judicious shapes and trimmings. One of the most effective ulsters is of geranium red, trimmed around the edges with four rows of narrow ribbon velvet of the same color, and surmounted by a small cape reaching to the elbows. Fur and feathers will be much used as trimmings. Winter coats and whole capes made of dark brown marabout are very fashionable. Skunk and bear skins are also very popular with those who can afford them. The poorer folks will cling to cat and rabbit skins.

The Memphis Appeal, continuing its plea for a Southern representative on the Democratic national ticket as the candidate for Vice-President, says:

Personal pique, and personal ambition, and makers of tickets we have plenty of, but leaders with the courage to lead the party out of this confusion are not heard of, because the statesmen of the South occupy but an advisory position in the Democratic party, and are only permitted by the bugaboo of sectionalism to pledge the votes of the South to any ticket the northern Democracy may nominate. They cannot propose a national nominee, because for the South to select a ticket would be to invite a campaign upon the assertion that it was to be manipulated by the South, and that is as bad in the eyes of the Republicans as to present Southern men for the Presidency or Vice Presidency. The South is thus silenced, is thus denied its equal participation in the legislation of the Democratic party; is politically paralyzed. This policy of cowardice has been pursued ever since, in 1860, that staunch, brave, cultivated gentleman, Governor Seymour, was nominated. The once national party is now sectional—it is dominated by Northern men, who represent factions whose highest ideal of the usefulness of a party in a free country is to make up a ticket that will win. The cause of this cowardice must be removed. The South, asserting itself in the councils of the Nation, taking its place in the House and the Senate, trusted by the North to pass upon the most important measures of legislation that have ever been voted upon in the National Legislature, must assert its right to be equally trusted in the councils of the Democratic party, and it must assert its equality in that party, and test the sincerity of the Northern States by the nomination of a Southern statesman for Vice President in 1884.

MISCELLANEOUS.

IT LEADS ALL.

No other blood-purifying medicine is made, or has ever been prepared, which so completely meets the wants of physicians and the general public as

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

It leads the list as a truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases. If there is a lurking taint of Scrofula about you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA will dislodge it and expel it from your system. For constitutional or scrofulous Catarrh, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is the true remedy. It has cured numerous cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

"Hutto, Tex., Sept. 26, 1881.
"At the age of two years one of my children was terribly afflicted with ulcerous running sores on its face and neck. At the same time its eyes were swollen, much inflamed, and very sore. Physicians told us that a powerful alterative medicine must be employed. They united in recommending AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. A few doses produced a perceptible improvement, which, by an adherence to your directions, was continued to a complete and permanent cure. No evidence has since appeared of the existence of any scrofulous tendencies; and no treatment of any disorder was ever attended by more prompt or effectual results.
Yours truly,
B. F. JOHNSON."
